REPUBLICANS
WOULD AMEND
SENATE RULE

Vote 32 to 1 to Bring About
Amendment to Prevent Unlimited Debate

Washington, May 31.—Republican senators today committed themselves to the movement designated to bring about amendment of the existing senate rules permitting unlimited debate. By a vote of 32 to 1 the Republican conference decided to draft and press a new cloture rule.

Whether the cloture efforts would be made while the tariff bill is pending was not decided. The prospects, however, were said to be that action on the cloture proposal would go over until later. A committee was appointed to draft the new cloture rule and another majority conference will be held to fix a time to bring the cloture plan before the senate.

FUTURES BILL
IS PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

Senator Capper, of Kansas Bill, Introduced New Measure to Correct Old Defects

Washington, May 31.—A new bill for regulation of future trading on grain exchanges designed to meet the recent decision of the supreme court holding the present trading act inoperative in parts was introduced in the senate today by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, chairman of the unofficial senate agriculture bloc and author of the original act.

In presenting his new measure Senator Capper said it had the support of the agricultural bloc and Secretary Wallace and others of the Department of Agriculture. It was referred to the agricultural committee.

The bill is similar to the act declared inoperative by the supreme court except that its fundamental principle is based upon the power of Congress to regulate interstate commerce instead of the taxing power which was the basis of the present law and which the supreme court held could not be exercised in that respect. The bill, like the present law, provides for designation and regulation of "contract markets" by the secretary of agriculture and for admission to grain exchanges of farmers' cooperative associations, the latter a provision opposed vigorously by the established boards of trades.

ARMY RESERVES
PLAN OUTLINED
BY COL. NEFF

Gives Plan of National Defense
Outlined by Army Heads for Period of Emergency

The organized officers' reserve plan of the United States Army was explained last night to reserve officers of Bismarck and former service men at the American Legion hall by Col. J. H. Neff, chief of staff, 8th division, organized reserves.

Effort is being made to develop a national defense policy and stating that lack of preparedness cost the taxpayers many additional billions in the World War and many lives, Col. Neff urged the importance of the officers' reserve.

The plan contemplates enrollment of 150,000 officers, made up of former officers in the Army during the World War and in graduates of Civilian Training Schools. The officers are assigned to various units in six armies created in the plan, which is expected to eventuate into a full enlisted personnel as well. They are to be called only in time of national emergency, or may be called for 15 days training each year if their business permits.

"We are not engaged in promoting militarism," said Col. Neff. "The man who hates war more than anyone else is the man who fought. It is an organization for defense, to make possible the organization of fighting forces in time of national emergency."

Sixty-six thousand former officers of the World War now are enrolled in the organized reserves. Additional applications are sought by the War Department.

Cumber's Bill Is Loaned

Burleigh county has fared far better in the number and amount of seed loans made by the federal government this year than last year. The report of the Grand Forks Farmers' Seed Loan office, containing tabulations for the week to include May 27, shows that 258 loans have been made in Burleigh county for a total of $90,704.50.

Burleigh county ranks sixth in the number of loans and seventh in the total amount of loans.

Last year there was loaned in Burleigh county $16,709. The amount of the federal seed loan last year was $2,000,000 and this year $1,500,000.

Last year the applications were handled through County Auditor Frank Johnson. This year the county commissioners employed John de Jong as county agent for 60 days, during which period Mr. de Jong aided the farmers in making out and forwarding applications. The result shows a far greater total of loans this year than last.

Mr. Churchill drew a gloomy picture of the state in which Ireland finds herself today. While dealing sympathetically with the provisional government's plight and detailing at length its reasons as conveyed to him by entering into the recent agreement with Eamonn DeValera, the Republican leader, he vigorously deprecated the pact as striking directly at the treaty which he declared would be broken if the four Republicans who are to be taken into the Irish government following the forthcoming election refused to sign the declaration of adherence to the treaty.

ROTARY CLUB

George L. Robinson of Garrison
Recalls Stirring Times of Old Civil War Days

Three members of the G. A. R. were present at the regular meeting of the Rotary club at the McKenzie hotel this noon when George L. Robinson of Garrison, and Judge W. L. Nuesse delivered addresses.

The G. A. R. members were W. E. Hibbs, J. W. Hart, and Steve Welch. The latter, Mr. Welch, is a grandson of Edwin M. Stanton, who was secretary of state in Abraham Lincoln's cabinet.

Mr. Robinson knew Captain U. S. Grant, as he called him, when Mr. Grant was a farmer in Illinois, just outside of St. Louis. The speaker told of calling on Captain Grant one day when he was chopping wood and met him several times later. Mr. Robinson was fortunate in living at a time when politics were as exciting as at present. He stated that once when he was on a horse buying expedition in northern Illinois he attended a Lincoln-Douglas debate at Rockford. At another time he heard the nightingale, Jennie Lind, sing in St. Louis.

Following Mr. Robinson's speech Judge W. L. Nuesse related some of the history and significance of Memorial Day which he said, came from the women of the South originally in this country. They began decorating the graves of their soldier dead during the Civil War, and later Gen. John A. Logan, commander of the G. A. R., made an official announcement declaring May 30, Decoration day. It is tracing the occasion back to its source Judge Nuesse asserted that the idea of Memorial Day had a predecessor in Soul's Day, a Catholic holy day, and even earlier in the time of the Romans and the earlier pagan who strewed the graves of their dead with flowers and green twigs.

BILL WILL BE REPORTED OUT
TO U. S. SENATE

Senator McLean Breaks Tie Existing Among Republican Senators on the Measure

THE BILL WILL BE PUSHED

Chairman of Finance Committee
Says That He Will Seek
Early Consideration

Washington, May 31.—The commonly known McCumber soldier bonus plan was ordered favorably reported today by the senate finance committee. The vote was 9 to 4.

The effective date of the bill was changed, however, from next October 1 to January 1, 1923, after Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, told the majority that it would take six months to get the bonus machinery in operation.

The Smoot plan providing for paid-up life insurance in lieu of all other forms of compensation was defeated by a vote of 8 to 6.

Senator McLean broke the tie which has existed among the Republican members on the vote to report the McCumber plan which is the house bill with some amendments, including elimination of the land settlement or reclamation project. Senators said reclamation was not discussed although house leaders and some supporters of reclamation have urged that the Smith-McNary reclamation bill or some similar legislation be attached to the bonus measure.

Oppose Laying Tariff Aside

Several of the majority members of the committee gave notice that they would oppose laying aside the tariff bill for senate consideration of the bonus in the near future. Chairman McCumber replied he intended to get as prompt consideration on the bonus bill as could be worked out.

It was reported that the Republican leaders hoped to work out some plan by which the bonus measure could be expedited without delaying the tariff bill.

Forfeiture Provision Out

Senator Simmons, ranking Democrat member, announced on behalf of the three Democratic members present that they voted for the McCumber plan to get action promptly and not because they favored it.

The committee before approving the McCumber plan eliminated the forfeiture provision as contained in the house measure, under which veterans failing to pay loans to bank or to the government would have forfeited their adjusted service certificates.

What Bill Provides

The senate bill as reported would provide for the payment of cash whose adjusted service credit would not exceed $50, as proposed in the house measure and would give to other veterans four options including:

Adjusted service certificates with a face value of 3.015 times the amount of the adjusted service credits computed at the rate of $1 per day for domestic service and $1.25 for foreign service with provisions for bank loans prior to January 1, 1926, and by the government thereafter.

The certificates would mature in 20 years from the date of issue, or sooner upon the death of the veteran. Vocational training aid at the rate of $1.75 per day, but the total not to exceed 140 per cent of the amount of the adjusted service credit of the veteran.

Land settlement: Upon the opening of public or Indian lands to entry veterans would be given preference in their settlement for a period of not less than 60 days and then would be allowed by the government for payment on such lands or improvements thereto an amount equal to the adjusted service credit with addition of 25 per cent. This provision is in lieu of the reclamation provision in the bill.

Farm or home aid in an amount equal to the following percentages of a veterans adjusted service credit: 100 per cent if payment were made during 1923, 105 per cent if payment were made in 1924, 110 per cent if payment were made in 1925, 120 in 1926, 130 in 1927 and 140 per cent in 1928 or thereafter. Under the house bill the amount paid under option would have been the total of the adjusted service credit increased by 25 per cent.

GETTING READY FOR 1922 HAIL INSURANCE 'BIZ'

Total Risk Carried By State Hail
Ins. Dept. Last Year Was
$81,737,655

24 COUNTIES CARRIED MORE

North Dakota's Hail Insurance Department carried insurance on about 70 per cent of the crops in the state according to preliminary sheets of the 1921 report of the Hail Insurance Department. The figures of this final report, while quite near the figures of the preliminary report given out some time ago, include all of the corrections made up to the present time.

The total risk carried by the department was $81,737,655, on 14,363,751 acres. The percentages of the amount of crop carried were about the same as for the two years preceding.

In comparison with the thirty-four old line companies, the state department carried nine times the amount carried by all the old line companies, the total insurance in these organizations being for a total risk of $9,044,346.

Twenty-four counties in the state carried more insurance in 1921 than they did the year before while some of the eastern counties carried less.

In spite of the increase in the amount per acre because of the heavy losses for the year, the rate was 6.3 per cent which the report declares is the best percentage in the state for the year. The total indemnity, after all corrections were made was $1,788,592.98. Very little further change will be made in these figures before the final closing of the books for the year.

The ratio of expense of overhead was 3.8 per cent on income and 3.6 per cent on losses. Adjustment of the hail losses for 1921 cost $4.22 per loss. The department considers this a very low figure when it is considered that North Dakota is a state of "magnificent distances" and that many times it is necessary to send an adjuster some distance by auto or horse to reach the point of the loss.

Checks are being cleared at this time for the beginning of the 1922 business. All of the printed material necessitated by the county auditors for the business of the department has been sent out and some of the insurance slips are beginning to come back to the office. In addition the office has received two notifications of hail loss, one farmer claiming a twenty-five per cent loss and one a fifty per cent loss. Incidentally a loss does not become effective until June 1st. Some withdrawals are also being filed with the department.

NORTH DAKOTA BOY MAKES WAY 52,100 MILES

Mose Rosenweig, Page in Legislature, Tells Experiences in Travel Around World

Minneapolis, May 30.—Morris Rosenweig, of Grand Forks, globe-trotter 52,100 miles, earning Minneapolis Gov. R. A. Nelson, of North Dakota, sent him a message saying: "Glad you are back."

Rosenweig, 22 years old, prepared to leave Minneapolis today for home. "The best way to get around the world is to be chauffeur for sight-seeing expeditions," he said.

"I tried it in California, Honolulu, the Philippines, China and Japan. Rosenweig's best stunt, he says, was staged on a boat between Japan and the Siberian coast.

"There was a baby cot for babies on board," he said. "I found it out before we sailed so I went out and bought one and rented it to mothers on board. I didn't make much at it but I had a lot of fun."

Here are some of Rosenweig's impressions of his long tour:

"There were no Hula dancers in Hawaii; they must all have gone to the United States."

"Hollywood is a good place to rest; it is quiet as a grave."

"Yap is just a fly speck on the map. Pacific may mean peaceful but the ocean isn't."

Rosenweig when a boy was a page to former governor L. B. Hanna, of North Dakota, and later chief page of the North Dakota house of representatives. He stumped the state for the "Nonpartisan league of Poland" when less than 21 years.

Mose also rose to new honors in Bismarck last winter when he was elected speaker of the "Third House."

BACK TO JULIUS CAESAR

AGNES CLAFFY

By NEA Service

Seattle, May 30.—Judge Netter went back to Julius Caesar's day for the precedent under which Agnes Claffy, aged 16, has fallen heir to $9000 left by her uncle, Clarence Swank, killed in action in the Argentine.

Before crossing the ocean to fight, Swank took out a war risk policy, the money to go to his mother if he fell. Later, his mother being old, he bequeathed it to her, she being the first, so wrote from France that he wanted his niece to be his heiress if she died.

In a day or two he was slain. His mother followed a few days later. Deeming his bequest to Miss Claffy too informal to notice, the war risk bureau inclined to pay the insurance money to Swank's brothers and sisters.

In declining the case Judge Netter said: "Throughout history, since the days of Julius Caesar, the will made by a soldier killed in line of duty, though not scrawled on his scabbard or his shield, or scratched in the sand, has always been carried out."

GRANT COUNTY HAS GOOD LOCATION FOR IRRIGATION PLANT, SAY ENGINEERS

Carson, N. D., May 30.—A dam site located on Heart River in Grant county, Section 13, Township 136, Range 89, near Swift's Ranch, is reported to be the best location for a large irrigation project of any reported in the state; this being the opinion of A. L. Fellows, Senior Chief Irrigation Engineer, Department of Agriculture, Denver, Colorado. Mr. A. L. Fellows is one of the best authorities on irrigation in the United States. He made the location of the Gunnison Tunnel, being a six mile bore, bringing the water to the Uncompahgre, Colorado project, and is responsible for many other successful irrigation projects. Mr. G. H. McMahon, Assistant State Engineer in charge of the Irrigation Department, State of North Dakota, looked over the site and stated that "the possibilities were very good for a big project at this point."

Prof. Chandler, C. E., University of North Dakota, has maintained a government gauging station at Richardson for the past 18 years, and the results show an ample supply of water to provide for irrigation of 36 sections.

Mr. McMahon states that in his judgment the reservoir site is ample to take care of the annual flow of Heart River.

A trip was made to the Zacher project on Antelope and to the Geer project on Snake Creek; both of these are well under way, and any one interested in irrigation would do well to take to these two men and to look their projects over.

A number of sites were viewed along the Cannon Ball, and Mr. McMahon stated that most of the valleys along the Cedar, Cannon Ball, Antelope, Heart and a number of the smaller streams could be benefited by the proper use of the water.

Grant County plans on sending a big delegation to the irrigation meeting in Bismarck June 7th and 8th.

chaser is Mrs. Anna Johnson of Fargo, who made the purchase for an investment.

The house brought $5,210 or about $400 more than the original estimate for the house, which was $4,850. The Thatcher audit of the Home Builders' association reported that the cost of the house was $7,144.

The house was one of the few in which letters on file in the office of the Home Builders showed the negotiations. According to these letters, Mr. McClintock asked repeatedly for a contract so that he might move into the house and begin making payments. Failure to get the contract resulted in his declining to take the house and declining to take the house at the time it was declared finished. The industrial commission has ordered the present manager of the Home Builders to negotiate with Mr. McClintock for a quit claim deed, the Association in exchange returning to Mr. McClintock the amount due him from his deposit fund.

Arrangements for the sale of the Home Builders house, erected for E. R. McClintock of Fargo have been completed by F. E. Diehl, present manager of the department. The purchase price was $7,144.

ALIEN CHARGES OF STATE MAY- BE SENT BACK

Inspectors Reported Upon State
Institution Investigated
By Him

NOT MANY ALIENS THERE

Several inmates of North Dakota penal or charitable institutions may be deported as a result of a special investigation made by O. B. Holton, federal immigration officer, at the request of the board of administration.

In a report to the board Mr. Holton says that he found four possible deportation cases in the insane hospital at Jamestown and 10 possible transfers to other states; four deportable cases at the penitentiary and two other possible deportations and eight possible deportations at the feeble-minded institution.

The immigration law provides that inmates of the penitentiary may be deported if they have been committed to an institution for one year or more for a crime involving moral turpitude if the crime was committed within five years after their entry into the United States; if sentenced on more than one conviction prior to Feb. 5, 1917; if they were convicted of a crime, felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude; or if they are of the anarchistic class.

Out of 229 prisoners interviewed at the penitentiary, Mr. Holton found 38 were aliens, of whom eight had become citizens of the United States before entering the prison.

Any alien who becomes a public charge from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to his entry to the United States, who was likely at the time of entry to become a public charge or who was feeble-minded at the time is subject for deportation, Mr. Holton says, explaining his investigation of the feeble-minded institution.

Of 156 persons interviewed in the feeble-minded institution less than five years five were found to have been born abroad.

At the insane hospital, where there are 564 patients, he found 11 aliens out of 57 "War Risk" patients.

While there is a regular check upon such cases both by the federal immigration service and the state institution, the board of administration employed Mr. Holton for one month to make a special survey of the institutions.

MANY AUTOS LACK LICENSES

Local Citizen Found 28 in 20
Minutes Without Proper Tags

A Bismarck business man today reported that on Sunday he stood at the corner of Broadway and Fourth street and in 20 minutes counted the following:

One auto with 1920 license tag.
Three with no tag.
Twenty-four with 1921 tags.

Since the auto registration is fixed by the state in lieu of all other taxes the state is losing the use of a great deal of money, he declared, because auto owners were not required to have 1922 license tags. Money for the Missouri river bridge is in part derived from the fund and auto license funds also go for the maintenance of highways.

Under the law it is made the duty of all officers of the law to detect violations of the auto license law, and the new city traffic ordinance make it unlawful for an owner to drive a car on the streets without the proper license tag.

ODD FELLOWS BOARD TO MEET

The home board of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will meet at Devils Lake June 5 to complete arrangements to locate the proposed Odd Fellows home in that city, C. R. Green, of this city, member of the board, said today. The board recently decided to locate the home at Devils Lake if the right kind of site is found, and Devils Lake people say they have an excellent site. The building probably will not be erected this year.

In Paris, the higher above the pavement a citizen lives, the higher the taxes he must pay.

GODLEY TELLS HOW TO EQUIP YOUR SUMMER CAMP WITH RADIO

RADIO OUTFIT IN CAMP

By Paul F. Godley

America's Foremost Radio Authority
Many campers this summer will take radio outfits as part of their camp equipment. They will be wise in so doing, for I can imagine no place where a radio will be more desired, particularly during the occasional inclement weather which is bound to come during a vacation period.

During these spells, nature's electrical interference may sometimes prevent the satisfactory reception of signals. But the interference is temporary. During the rest of the time the camper will be able to get the weather forecasts, time signals, baseball scores and other broadcasted material.

Due to the nature of the terrain, the erection of the antenna frequently offers serious difficulties, particularly if it is necessary to receive the radio reports from a great distance.

Kite Aerial
If trees of fair height are available, they may serve as antenna supports. But if they are not, kites may be used for holding the antenna wire aloft.

At the seashore, on the lakes or in the mountains, there is seldom a time when a breeze of some kind is not blowing, and there is a kite for every breeze. I have known many amateurs who have found no end of pleasure in selecting two or three kites, each of different size. These are of the "tailless" variety, sometimes known as "eddy" kites. I have purchased them in any number of toy shops or stationery stores at prices ranging from five cents to a quarter each.

A light breeze calls for a kite "string" consisting of No. 38 bare copper wire, while the heaviest wind may call for something considerably stronger, for example, No. 18 bare copper wire. A little experiment with the breeze, the kite (or kites, for these may be flown very handily in tandem) and the wire, will soon enable one to run up an antenna with a surprising minimum of delay.

Antennae such as these have been kept aloft for periods of several days, although the best practice is to reel in the 200 or more feet of wire as soon as it has served its purpose.

Good Reception
Antennae supported by kites have been very successfully for the reception of signals from European high-power and semi-high-power stations. Under these circumstances, as much as 1000 or more feet of wire may be fed up into the sky. With an antenna of such excellent characteristics as to height, surprisingly strong signals may be received with even the simpler types of vacuum tube receivers.

Ground connection may be made by stretching a wire 300 feet long over the surface of the earth in a direction away from the station which it is desired to receive.

6,000,000th FORD BUILT MAY 18th

Four Out of Five Ford Cars and Trucks Sold Since 1908
Still in Operation

The six millionth Model "T" Ford motor was produced May 18th, in the Ford factory at Detroit. In other words, from the time back in 1903 when the Ford Motor company began marketing the now famous Model "T" Motor Car until May 18, 1922, a total of six million Ford cars and trucks have been produced. Out of this total 5,517,956 were delivered to purchasers in the United States alone, and according to the latest statistics, 4,478,248 of these Ford cars and trucks are still in daily service.

Thus it will be seen that out of every five Ford cars and trucks sold to retail purchasers in the United States alone during the past fourteen years, four are still in actual daily use, which is really remarkable when the hard service of commercial cars is taken into consideration. This seems to forcibly confirm the popular knowledge of the longevity of Ford cars.

That Ford products have been quite evenly distributed throughout the United States is borne out by the fact that through the sparsely settled communities in the west to the densely populated cities in the east, practically the same ratio of Ford cars and trucks to population exists.

Ohio leads with a total of 290,769 Ford cars and trucks in daily use; Illinois comes second; Pennsylvania third; Texas fourth; and Michigan fifth, with a total of 234,081. New York, Iowa and California follow in the order named, each having more than 200,000.

An idea of the important part played by the Ford cars and trucks in daily transportation of goods and persons in the United States can be gained in realization of the fact that with the Ford cars now in operation, averaging a minimum of 5,000 miles per year each, they would pile up a total of twenty-five billion transportation miles—equivalent to more than a million trips around the world.

Major Sprague Being Boomed For State Commander

Devils Lake, May 30.—Major Manvel Sprague of Grafton, present national committeeman of the state organization is being presented by his friends for the position of commander of the North Dakota Legion. His candidacy is being promoted widely throughout the state.

Major Sprague has not officially entered the race. The canvas of the situation is being made and the results received have decided his friends to enter his name in the Legion convention, which begins here, June 20.

Major Sprague is the second man to enter the race for the state commandery, the first candidate being Major G. H. Russ of Bismarck, now vice commander. The announcement of Major Russ to the highest position was made some time ago.

Friends of Major Sprague have decided to oppose the promotion of vice commanders to the higher office, and if no other candidates appear will make the campaign on the issue of discontinuing the practice of former elections.

Major Sprague has become prominent in North Dakota military circles through the National Guard. He started out as a private, and has been promoted gradually to his present position as major. He served on the border, as well as on the western front. He will take up headquarters at Devils Lake on June 10, when the state encampment of the guard begins here.

Both of the announced candidates for commander are bankers. Major Sprague being the cashier of a bank at Grafton while Major Russ is cashier of a bank at Bismarck.

88th Division To Hold Third Annual Reunion

Devils Lake, N. D., May 30.—The third annual reunion of the North Dakota section of the 88th Division will be held in Devils Lake on June 20, in connection with the state convention of the American Legion.

Secretary Bob Flynn of Fargo today made headquarters reservation for the men of the 88th, and announced that plans were well under way for the biggest northwestern reunion in the history of the division. New officers will be elected, while delegates will be selected to represent the state at the national reunion of the division which is booked for Minneapolis in September.

The 88th Division includes most of the draft soldiers from the state and was organized at Camp Dodge. It probably includes more North Dakota ex-soldiers than any other division organization.

18 MILLION IN LOANS ARE PUT IN NO. DAKOTA

War Finance Corporation Greatly Aids N. D. Institutions, McAnaney Says

STATE IS HELD SOUND

North Dakota is recognized in financial circles in Washington as an intrinsically sound state, Louis P. McAnaney, examiner for the War Finance Corporation and formerly credits director of the Bank of North Dakota, said here today. Mr. McAnaney went to Washington last November, his position being to examine and pass upon loans applied for from the War Finance Corporation.

"When I left Washington two weeks ago $18,000,000 had been put into North Dakota by the War Finance Corporation," said Mr. McAnaney. This represented 1,000 to 1,100 approved applications of banks for loans, he said. Very few new applications were being received from North Dakota banks when he left which, he said was evidence of relief in financial conditions through timely assistance by the War Finance Corporation.

Liquidation from some other states, where loans were secured by warehouse receipts on cotton and some livestock loans in the Southwest where cattle had been shipped, was in greater amounts than the demand for new loans, he said.

North Dakota Sound
"My work has given me an opportunity to analyze and become informed on banking and financial conditions of 37 states," said Mr. McAnaney, "and many of them are in far worse shape financially, as revealed by bank statements and other information in the hands of the War Finance Corporation, than North Dakota."

The collateral offered by North Dakota banks, consisting mainly of farmers' notes, appeared on the whole to be of much more liquid character than the agricultural paper of other states.

"Financial statements which were submitted did not as a rule show as large net worth in North Dakota institutions and individuals as some other states, but it is conceded that the valuations on real estate are not inflated in North Dakota and consequently the figures represented the rock bottom prices."

Some states, Mr. McAnaney said, carried their inflated land values into their applications, which was not true in North Dakota.

Railroads Paying Up
The railroads of the country who borrowed so heavily from the War Finance Corporation during the war are paying back loans at the rate of millions a week, he said, adding evidence to other instances which show a generally relieved situation over the whole country. Money is more plentiful in New York than it has been for many years, he said.

Reports to the War Finance Corporation, Mr. McAnaney added, show that several states have had more bank failures than North Dakota, involving a far greater total of liabilities.

Managing Director Eugene Meyer, Jr., who recently returned from a trip covering most of the United States at the request of President Harding was very optimistic over financial conditions, he continued.

Liberal advances made to North Dakota are evidence of abundant faith of the board in ability to recover quickly from the period of poor crops, he said. The War Finance Board understands perfectly well conditions in North Dakota; that although there has been a period of poor crops the state has been prosperous and one good crop will come nearer restoring the state than any other state. Mr. McAnaney feels that half of the loans now outstanding with the War Finance Corporation will be repaid this year with a fair crop and prices.

GOBEL IN RACE FOR CORONER

Rumors reaching some of his friends that E. J. Gobel would not file petitions for the nomination for county coroner were set at rest by the filing of the petitions by Mr. Gobel with a surplus of names.

Mr. Gobel said today he is in the race to stay. He is making his appeal to the voters on the basis of ten years experience in the undertaking business, and believes that the county coroner ought to be a man who is familiar with that kind of work, in order to insure proper care to all deceased persons who come under the scope of the coroner's office.

Mr. Gobel is well known in civic and fraternal organizations.

AIRPLANE IS HANDY FOR N. D. MAN IN HURRY

Makes Fast Trip Into South Dakota to Keep Business Engagement

The Aberdeen, S. D. Journal says. O. R. Billington, of Driscoll, N. D. had an important business engagement at Huron, S. D. He planned to drive from Driscoll to Linton, N. D. in time to catch the south-bound Milwaukee train, which would in turn make connections with the south-bound train for Huron. But his car got stuck in the mud, and by the time he got pulled out and on his way, it was too late for him to catch the train at Linton. As a last resort, he hunted up C. M. Larson of Dell Rapids, S. D., an airplane pilot, and the latter undertook to try to get him to Aberdeen in time to catch the train for Huron at 6:15 a. m.

The men left Linton at 5:10 in the morning and arrived at the landing field at Aberdeen at 6:42, making the 105 miles from Linton in sixty-two minutes. But they could not reach the railway station from the landing field in three minutes, so Mr. Billington missed his train after all. Then Mr. Larson decided he wanted to see the folks at home at Dell Rapids, so he agreed to take Mr. Billington on to Huron in time for him to make his business engagement and he will then go on to his home in Dell Rapids.

The rapid transit from Linton was made possible because of a high northwest wind about 25 to 30 miles an hour, which aided the airplane materially in its flight. Larson is well known in Aberdeen, having piloted the first commercial plane into Aberdeen in 1919. He is now teaching an airplane school at Linton.

LANGER TAKES STUMP, BOOSTS SENATOR BAKER

Former Attorney-General Speaks For Fulfillment of Original League Program

William Langer, former attorney general, who spoke at Garrison Monday night in behalf of Senator Baker, league candidate for governor, announced today that he would speak at Tappen Saturday afternoon and at Robinson Saturday night.

Mr. Langer, stating in his Garrison speech, that he endorsed the farmers' program, declared that the Nestos administration could not be trusted to put the program into full effect and give it a fair trial. He declared that some of the appointees of the administration, naming W. B. DeNault and Lewis Crawford, were known to be strongly opposed to the industrial program in any form.

Mr. Langer declared that the Consumers stores, banks, etc., was not a part of the farmers' program. He condemned men whom he said had wrecked the Scandinavian-American bank. Some of the men who were indicted at Fargo ought to be sent to the penitentiary and some who were not indicted ought to have been, he said.

Mr. Langer declared that the administration of the rural credits law under the present administration had been a failure. He did not mention the senatorial situation in his Underwood speech, confining his remarks to an appeal for support of Senator Baker, the league candidate for governor, and his aids.

FILM STAR IS BACK MAKING FILMS

Alice Calhoun, the Vitaphone star, had a narrow escape in filming the big scene at the climax of the "Rainbow," which will be shown at the Capitol Theater tonight. This scene shows a burning building and was filmed at 3 a. m. The hero, Jack Ronch, is confined to a shack in which explosives are kept. The villain sets fire to the place hoping to disfigure or kill the hero. Alice Calhoun, as the heroine, rushes to the assistance of the young man, and after refusing him is overcome by smoke. She is dragged from the building by the hero. In making the scene Mr. Ronch dragged the star in such a way that her shoes and stockings caught fire and she sustained severe burns about the ankles and feet. However she refused to quit work and remained on location until 5 a. m.

NEW FORD TIMER

A new Ford timer being exhibited on the streets is proving to be a real sensation.

The writer witnessed a demonstration Monday where an old dilapidated Ford car was shoved onto a vacant lot and pronounced unstartable.

With no preliminary adjustments or examinations, the man in charge of demonstration installed one of the new timers and amid the jeers and hoots of mechanics who had been trying all morning to start it, proceeded to start it with his foot.

Needless to say it started, with no apparent effort with conditions all against it. The start was really a surprise.

The factory man making the demonstration calmly asserted, that "any Ford car he couldn't start on the map with the lights turned on with the points torn off the spark plugs would get a timer free of charge."

GOOD NEWS EVERYBODY

Quantity production enables any manufacturer to lower prices.

Since our business has grown to its present proportions, we are enabled to reduce our prices of drycleaning, pressing, dyeing, repairing and remodeling, even though rents are higher, and costs of drycleaning materials are higher than they were a year ago.

Any business can be compared with the Automobile business in this respect. Take the Ford Motor Co., Detroit, Mich., for example. Henry Ford is able to sell his product at a lower figure today than ever before, due to the increased production of his institution, even in the face of increased cost of material.

We can give you a lower price by doing a $500.00 a week cleaning and dyeing business than we could offer you if we were only doing a $200.00 a week business.

Beginning June 1st, we have lowered our prices, and assure everybody that we will continue to give as good a job, and as good service as is possible to attain in this line of business.

By getting your work done for less, you can have more cleaning done at the same price you would have paid a year ago.

"STEP LIVELY" MINSTREL MEN ALL SET TO GO

Big Elks Production to be Given At Auditorium Friday and Saturday Nights

PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

"Step Lively" is all ready for the starting gun. Nightly rehearsals have put the Elks Minstrel cast in fine fettle for the fun festival to be given at the Auditorium Friday and Saturday nights. Eighty men are banded together to make the production a whole of a success, and to make the show complete some of them will impersonate female characters in some hilarious scenes.

The show is pronounced without doubt the best bunch of minstrel fun ever given in Bismarck. A glance at the program below indicates the reasons:

- Scene I—"The Rehearsal." Cast—All we could drag in to take part in this act; there may be twenty, there may be thirty or even forty—who can tell? Perhaps some have "gone a fishing."
- Incidental to this act: "Hail, Hail"—W. J. Riggs. "On a Saturday Night"—Joe Bellanger.
- Harmonica Solos—Henry Duemeland.
- "Leave Me Alone"—Ray Chambers. (Words and music by Donald McDonald.)
- Hawaiian Melody—T. J. McNeese.

HANDS OFF, IS BONUS POLICY OF THE LEGION

Hanford MacNider Says Bonus Is Congress' Work Not That of the Legion

Minneapolis, Minn., May 31.—The American Legion has adopted a hands off policy toward bonus legislation in Congress, Hanford MacNider, national commander of the Legion, said here when he spoke at several Memorial Day exercises yesterday.

"Service men will get a bonus, it is most certain," the Legion man declared, "but the enactment of an adjusted compensation bill will not be the result of any agitation by the American Legion."

"The bonus is the child of Congress not the American Legion," he said. "It is their problem, not ours. It has been made to appear perhaps that the bonus is being urged by the American Legion under threats. That is not true. So far as I know no post of the Legion has wired Congressmen urging passage of the bonus bill."

"There is one reason why American soldiers should have a bonus. The government has taken a whole nation of defenders and made them the promise of a bonus. It is our contention that it is for the good of the country that this whole generation of defenders shall not lose faith in their government and that these men should see the promises carried out."

PLANT ON PROBATION BASIS

Asamoose, N. D.—As the outcome of a hearing here before the state railroad commission in the matter of the closing down of the local light plant, the utility is to be run for three months on a probation basis, the city engineer to pay a compromise rate for street lights during that period. The utility had claimed its rates were inadequate to warrant operation. Higher rates were offered by several citizens. If, at the end of three months, the commission deems the revenues inadequate, the electric company may close down, move its plant, or take such action as it wishes.

I started off as yellow as gold, now my eyes and skin are all cleared up. My kidneys do not bother me at night any more. If it did help some other poor soul who is suffering you may use my name wherever your medicine is advertised."

BIG RESORT IN BADLANDS, IS WERNER'S HOPE

E. O. Hodges Declares He Is Promoting Gigantic Health Resort

Dickinson, N. D., May 31.—Werner boosters are enthusiastic over the prospective development of the mineral resources of Dunn county through the establishment of a plant for the manufacture of pressed brick from scoria and an extensive health resort in the Bad Lands north of that place as proposed by E. O. Hodges, mineralogist of Joliet, Ill. Mr. Hodges has spent the past year prospecting in the Werner vicinity and is now ready to act.

During a visit to Dickinson Mr. Hodges stated that money now is available for the financing of the project and that he has the indorsement of the federal government and several states.

in establishing a mammoth health resort north of that place.

All the building material will be manufactured from the scoria and shales of Dunn county, Mr. Hodges said and all the capital will come from outside the state. Local people may acquire stock in the company but no soliciting will be done, he said.

The machinery for the plant where the building material will be made is practically ready for shipment from Chicago. This will entail an investment of $30,000 which Mr. Hodges will furnish personally. His engineer and architect will arrive at Werner soon and plans for the manufacturing plant and resort will be drafted immediately.

Father Neptune Ought To Enjoy This Summer

Every sort of material is being used for swimming suits this season, from gingham and cretonne among the cottons, to velvet and Canton crepe. Of course jersey, both wool and silk, will make many bathing costumes, while taffeta and satin will form many more. If the suits worn at Palm Beach are an authentic indication.

At first thought, crepe may seem rather a thin and clinging fabric from which to fashion a bathing suit which is expected to get wet. But it is delightfully light, even when wet, as wool never is, and the beauty of it is that it is dry two minutes after the swimmer is out of the water with warm sunshine and a brisk breeze blowing.

Stockings and shoes should match the bathing suit, or the prevailing color, if the suit is a combination of several colors. The bandana or cap however, may match the costume or be in distinct contrast.

The rubber flowers with which caps and suits may be adorned come in every color and are especially effective on dark suits. However, it is on the beach rather than while in the water that the fair bather knows she is most picturesque, and she may wear a demure suit of black taffeta and depend for color entirely upon the gaiety of her bandana, her beach parasol, and her extremely important caps.

The bather of 1922 might get along without any ocean, if there were plenty of beach, but she just can't get along without a cape. This she will have of chintz lined with silk, of warm, soft wool, or of Terry cloth, which is reversible and gaily patterned on both sides.

Household Hints

SPILLED FOOD

Sprinkle salt on anything which has boiled over the stove. This smother the blaze and prevents smoke and odor.

PREVENTS TARNISH

Put a little camphor in the drawer where the silver is kept and the silver will not tarnish.

LENGTHENS LIFE

Before the new linoleum is used rub linseed oil into it and then wipe dry. This doubles the life of the floor covering.

BAKED POTATOES

Run the time of a fork into the potatoes before baking them and they will not burst open while in the oven.

CLEANING BRONZE

Hot soaps suds are the best medium for cleaning genuine bronze. Sweet oil, applied with a brush, is also cleansing. The oil should be removed with a soft cloth.

COFFEE HINT

Put a piece of paper over the top of the coffee can under the lid and the coffee will hold its strength much longer.

TIME SAVER

Always put the egg beater into cold water immediately after using it. It is much easier to clean then, thus time is saved.

CUTTING SOAP

A piece of fine wire pressed tightly down from each side on a bar of soap will cut it neatly.

Use Tacks

Platters and other dishes which are stood up in the rear of the pantry shelf often slip down and break. Drive small tacks in to hold them up.

WHAT'S NEW IN MUSIC

JERITZA SINGS TWO SOPRANO SOLOS

Other Splendid Vocal Numbers by Leading Artists

UNE introduces a new artist to Victor audiences, comparatively new to the American music world—Mme. Maria Jeritza, the famous new dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company. In private life the Baroness is a native of Austria, and her training in the art of singing is of the highest order. Jeritza has won swift approval in America.

Two splendid records comprise her first offering to Victor music lovers, the first, "Ella's Traum" from "Lohengrin," a fitting medium through which to introduce her powers. This is the melody in which Elsa of Brabant, unjustly accused, calls upon Heaven for deliverance and tells of Lohengrin, the knight of the Grail, the nameless hero of her dream. The Grail motive, the Lohengrin motive, the premonitions of her own wedding music and the knight's heart-breaking farewell—all sweep grandly past.

Mme. Jeritza's second record is the "Lied der Maria" from "Die Lorelei," a soft and wonderful melody, haunting and subtle, yet clear and of a soft, weaving rhythm.

Dr. J. S. Serenade, which Elman plays for a new Victor Record. In June, is one of those compositions which can be called popular without being crude. Its sentiment is wholesome, a soft lyric melody, rising higher and higher until it rests on the "High D," the topmost note of which even such vocalization as Galli-Curci may hope to achieve. It is, outstanding even itself, a climax follows, culminating with another triumphant high note.

Never fear that when you listen to an Italian love song, you're going to hear something you have heard before. In Italy are songs as rare as field flowers, just as beautiful and quite as individual. De Gorgozza sings one on a Victor Record for June, "Lasciati dir tu m'ammi" (Only to Dream You Love Me), which is a high and intense emotional beauty is probably not surpassed by any of his many fine records.

As Dufrance in Zora Martinelli sings in June that beautiful number wherein the hero of this opera begins to succumb to the music-hall singer's charms. "E un viso gentile" (This is a Gentle Smile) is a light, melodious, even "catchy" yet filled with passionate sentiment, sung magnificently with splendid power.

Sophie Braslau's contribution to the June Victor Records is a love-song combining popular and truly artistic elements, a feat not so easy, and by no means common. "The Jasmine Door" is a simple, appealing melody, with harmonies unusually rich and tender, and fine. The record is a refutation, too, of the common practice of judging a contralto voice by its tones only. Here the voice rises, high, rich and pure as a shaft of liquid gold, into its upper ranges, dying out among soft-piled harmonies at the end.

Two new dance orchestras make their first records among the latest Victor releases. The Virginians, directed by Ross Gorman and sponsored by Paul Whiteman, make a record of their own, each selection being particularly adapted to the slow, medium and whirling steps of the "Blues." "Cuddle Up Blues" is a fox trot which begins with staccato brass and a slam of the cymbal, then settles down to a steady, rocking metre. When it's done you immediately want another of the same.

For the month of weddings, Toscanini and La Scala Orchestra play Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream." It is not simply a number to "play" at weddings, however, but a concert number of extraordinary power and inspiration. To those who have never heard it played, as it was written, by a big symphony orchestra, this record will contain many surprises.

"Moonrise," which Werrenrath sings in June, is informal in style. Though its melody is tender, it is vigorous, even a little lusty, calling for that fine directness and clear, definite enunciation for which Werrenrath is justly famous.

Your dealer in Victor products has these new records. You will enjoy hearing them, and he'll be glad to play them for you.

New Records for June Dances kind, so on the other side you'll find "My Honey's Lovin' Arms" in similar vein, with some beautiful trombone effects.

The International Novelty Orchestra introduces itself to Victor dancers with a waltz, "Swanee River," with good, rhythmic swing. On the other side of the record we have Paul Whiteman in characteristic style, playing "Do It Again" from "The French Doll" an invitation you'll feel like to accept, once you hear this record.

Joseph C. Smith and His Orchestra make a Victor Record exclusively theirs this time. "Every Day" is a sure enough melody for fox trot, which everything goes smoothly for nine-tenths of the record, when the time suddenly doubles, with startling effect. "Rose of Stamboul" on the reverse is a medley waltz from the operetta of that name, one of the most beautiful, most distinguished waltzes heard in some time.

All Star Trio and Their Orchestra also make their own Victor Record this month, one a European fox trot in excellent style, a fluent, easy dance—"No Use Crying." "Teasin'" on the other side is also smooth and swinging, but less reminiscent of his of mischief from instruments.

For its second selection International Novelty Orchestra plays "You Can Have Every Light on Broadway." It starts with a laugh, proceeds and finishes in the same spirit, ending up with three pounding drum notes. On the reverse Club Royal plays another piece from "Rose of Stamboul"—"Love Dorey," odd and original, out of the usual run of fox trots.

With Clyde Deorr himself at the chief sax, Club Royal makes a bawdy fox trot out of "California," revealing a lumber-camp tune or two, some crisp trumpet work and some trombone whoops—rather well-bred whoops at that, for this New York organization plays only the most tasteful dances. Turn this record over and you'll find All Star Trio and Their Orchestra in "Who Believed in You," a fox trot introducing some pathetic sax melody, rain-drops, xylophone passages, and plenty of action.

A certain foreign dictionary defines the fox trot as "an American tribal dance." On a June Victor Record are two that call the name to mind. "Some Sunny Day" by the White-mans is a clear and powerful record with sharp, incisive accents and unusual volume of tone. On the reverse Club Royal Orchestra plays "Foxy," in a fine stately rhythm, a number decidedly off the usual run of fox trots.

Two Inspiring Devotional Records

Few find themselves so completely at home in the world of oratorio as Mme. Homer. For June she introduces to the future another immortal masterpiece of sacred music interpreted that simple, grave and dignified melody. But the tone is in "Mindful of His Own" from Mendelssohn's Oratorio "St. Paul," its tones are of marvelous beauty, level, prolonged, at moments with an almost tragic quality of utterance, but returning always to the calm sense of the composition, that of trust in Divine goodness.

Another splendid record for the home collection of great sacred music is among the June Victor Records, featuring two of the greatest solos from Rossini's Oratorio, "Sibet Mater." The one introduces Lambert Murphy as an oratorio singer, his interpretation given to the familiar "Cry of the Heart" (Through His Bleeding Side) being a genuine contribution to great sacred song. On the reverse is Lucy Isabelle Marshall's version of "Infernal" from "The Holy City," supported by the Victor Oratorio Chorus, already in the Victor Catalogue.

Two Slavonic dances by Dvorak on a single record by the Victor Concert Orchestra make a charming and as interesting offering among the June record releases. They are heavily and intricately scored, the same theme never being given to the same group of instruments when repeated, revealing a marvelous set of orchestral variations. They are played with great skill.

Wedding March by La Scala Orchestra

For the month of weddings, Toscanini and La Scala Orchestra play Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream." It is not simply a number to "play" at weddings, however, but a concert number of extraordinary power and inspiration. Two new dance orchestras make their first records among the latest Victor releases. The Virginians, directed by Ross Gorman and sponsored by Paul Whiteman, make a record of their own, each selection being particularly adapted to the slow, medium and whirling steps of the "Blues." "Cuddle Up Blues" is a fox trot which begins with staccato brass and a slam of the cymbal, then settles down to a steady, rocking metre. When it's done you immediately want another of the same.

For the month of weddings, Toscanini and La Scala Orchestra play Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream." It is not simply a number to "play" at weddings, however, but a concert number of extraordinary power and inspiration. To those who have never heard it played, as it was written, by a big symphony orchestra, this record will contain many surprises.

"Moonrise," which Werrenrath sings in June, is informal in style. Though its melody is tender, it is vigorous, even a little lusty, calling for that fine directness and clear, definite enunciation for which Werrenrath is justly

BOONE

Jaquelin Ambler Caskie, rummaging in the garret of an old Virginia mansion, finds a letter written by Daniel Boone, celebrated vagabond, in 1784.

The letter shows Dan was a "poor speller." He spelled "done" D-u-n and "humble" o-m-b-e-l.

So did nearly everyone else, in those days, for that matter. Common school education for all is a development of the last century, and easily the greatest of modern marvels.

Defective spelling didn't worry Boone, who punctuated his communications with rifle bullets. Spelling is needed now in making a living. But it wasn't in Boone's day. One of his greatest achievements was leading a party of 30 to Lower Blue Licks, in the Indian country, to get a supply of salt.

Today he'd give his son a nickel and send him to the corner store.

STYLES

Frances Day, teacher of scientific housekeeping at Western Reserve University, comments that most styles live only four years.

"The first year, the style is shown by exclusive houses. The second, it is worn by the best-dressed group. In the third year, it is worn by everyone. And in the fourth, it continues popular with some."

That is also true of thought. By the time progressives get their ideas broadcasted to all, the ideas have become obsolete, new styles of "reform" crowding them out.

The last to see the light are the conservatives, "old fogies." They are necessary, like the big chunk of iron at the end of a hitching strap, to keep the prancing reformers from running away.

WANDERLUST

If chained to a dull job, you envy Dan O'Leary, who has walked 275,000 miles in his roving since 1874.

Dan is a moving monument to the wanderlust or vagabond instinct that slumbers in all of us. Without it, we'd still be living near the gates of the Garden of Eden.

Columbus, American pioneers and all others who led vast streams of population into new places—all were vagabonds.

But we have built up a system that calls for sending out roots—camping in one locality for life. That's why, in jealousy, civilization delights to jail tramps.

EXPLOITING

The forests of Russia could be made to pay off the world's whole war debt in less than 100 years. Economists make that claim. It dovetails in with the Lord Milner plan, now guiding British reconstruction policy.

Britain thinks the way to get rid of war debts is to develop wealth—exploiting, for instance, Africa and Russia.

Milner probably got his idea from America, which half a century ago made its Civil War debt fade into insignificance by a great railroad building boom that unlocked the vast riches west of the Mississippi river.

DAN

Dan O'Leary, champion roamer, arrives in Boston, having walked 275,000 miles since 1874.

Dan is 81 years old, but shows his strength by walking 44 miles in 9 hours 25 minutes.

He expects to continue devoting his life to walking until he passes the century mark. Recently he made an appointment to meet President Harding in Washington in 1942.

This roving champion's tip to the rest of us is that his excellent health is due to exercising his legs. The body gets rusty, functions improperly, unless kept active. Long walks beat medicine.

ESPERANTO

Radio is doing a lot to end mistrust and ill-feeling in Europe, and to break down the traditional barriers raised by secret diplomacy.

That's the size-up by Prof. A. Christian, language expert at the University of Glasgow.

Christian is broadcasting speeches in the universal language, Esperanto. As radio extends its long arms to link the far corners of the earth, the great barrier will be need of a common language.

Far-sighted radio fans will investigate Esperanto.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

A FORTUNATE STATE

The Nonpartisan League of North Dakota appears to be facing the greatest crisis of its career in the forthcoming June primaries and the November elections. For seven years it kept the state in political turmoil. Now, declare old party leaders, it shows signs of disintegrating.

Three years ago the League reached the zenith of its power. The people of North Dakota had given it carte blanche to lead them to the promised land of economic, industrial and political prosperity. The answer to this mandate was the now historic New Day program. The formulation of that program witnessed the high-water mark of the League control and the beginning of its most serious difficulties.

The New Day program in itself contained some meritorious features not impossible of realization. The trouble seems to have arisen because of the political machinery designed to put the scheme into operation and the quality of the League's leadership. Whatever the reasons, the program has floundered.

The Bank of North Dakota is practically insolvent. The Home Builders' Association is in hopeless confusion. The state-owned mill and elevator stand less than half completed, and the tax funds of the state are largely tied up in long-time loans on farm lands. Considerable money has been lost in banks that failed or has been squandered through blundering officials.

An inadequate system of agriculture, weeds, black rust, five years of drought and the crash in the prices of farm products in 1920 all helped to make the ruin of the program complete.

When the people realized a year ago what had happened they demanded a house cleaning. A recall election was held last fall and the governor, the attorney general and the commissioner of agriculture, who constituted the Industrial Commission intrusted with the carrying out of the program, were deposed.

This was a crushing blow to League prestige. To make it worse A. C. Townley was having personal difficulties in the United States courts, which resulted in a three months' jail sentence. During his troubles other leaders came forward. Among these Leiderbach, a former Townleyite, got control of a newspaper and began advocating the formation of a Nonpartisan League party.

This was contrary to all the teachings of the founders, who sought control of the existing parties, and caused a division in League ranks. The paper's stockholders finally forced Leiderbach and his associates out of control, but the damage was done. The League is split. It no longer presents an unbroken front to its opponents. It is also broke. Empty is its once well-filled war chest. Consequently there is gloom in the hearts of the Leaguers and corresponding joy in the hearts of the old party politicians.

Townley is no longer a factor in state politics. Instead of hopping blithely from place to place in his speedy airplane to deliver a few burning words to groups of the faithful, as he did when the League was in the heyday of its power, he sits gloomily in exile awaiting a call to return from Elba and lead his hosts to victory. But the call does not come.

Such seems to be the political situation in North been lost that failed or has been squandered through blundering officials. less confusion. The state-owned mill and elevator, just as they were ripe for Populism in Kansas thirty years ago. The old political gang had become arrogant; the farmers faced some hard economic conditions. Finally many came to the conclusion they were the victims of a great conspiracy.

Townley appeared at the right moment with his trained troupe of political dreamers, visionaries, socialists and I. W. W.s gathered from the ends of the earth. These men, most of them doubtless sincere, painted the dawn of a wonderful new day, and the people caught a glimpse of a land flowing with milk and honey. Now the picture has faded.

Some of the people in the state are much discouraged, but they have no reason to be. North Dakota has been quite fortunate. While a wild land boom and kindred extravagances were sweeping neighboring states, the farmers of North Dakota were grimly jousting with political windmills, seeking the lairs of the ogres responsible for their woes.

The farmers of North Dakota had just as much excitement as the farmers of older and therefore more prosperous states, and it has cost them only a fraction as much. They can be truly thankful for the mad crusade in which they were so fruitlessly engaged. North Dakota has no large debts and almost no bonded indebtedness. It is economically sound and it has a great future.

The people of the state have received a liberal education. They have learned that no brand of politics can take the place of a sound system of agriculture, and they have launched an aggressive campaign to build up the weak points in their farming methods. They have learned that merely electing a man to office does not endow him with either business experience or business wisdom. They have learned many other valuable lessons, not the least of which is that cooperation properly carried out holds greater possibilities for economic emancipation than politics or state socialism.—The Country Gentlemen.

SIS TRIES ON HER NEW BATHING SUIT

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The Man-in-the-Moon suspected trouble.

He had seen Comet-Legs, his enemy slip off on his shooting-star in a great hurry. He had gone in the direction of Eena Meena's house where bad dreams were to be had.

So when night came and the moon was almost empty of faibles—all of them being down, on the earth—he took his spyglass and looked down at the world and hunted up Tommy Brown's house.

Wink, the dream-fairy, had confided to the Moon Man as he left he had a fine dream to spread on Tommy's pillow and was going to try and make it come true.

But Mr. Peetrabout suspected trouble, so he took his spyglass and looked down.

He looked down at the very minute old Comet-Legs met Wink on top of Tommy's roof. He could see Comet-Legs had a toad-skin bag over his shoulder and knew that in it was one of Eena Meena's awful dreams. Over Wink's shoulder was a poppy-leaf bag with Tommy's nice dream about the pony.

Mr. Peetrabout put his hand behind his ear and listened.

"Ha!" came Comet-Leg's voice with

But premature specialization is often unfortunate. Very often the life plans made tentatively in the teens are later radically changed. It is far better for a young man to lay a broad foundation in general subjects as history, literature, the natural sciences, sociology, economics, philosophy and ethics, leaving specialization till a later period. This kind of preparation for life is sure in the end to result in increase of efficiency and contribute to a much larger success than a narrowly technical training alone.

After all, and in spite of the intensely practical tendencies of the age in which we live, the making of a life is of more importance than making a living.

EVERETT TRUE

RICHES

(Florence Bonner.)

The richest man is he who sees, The beauties wrapped in Nature's laws, Who walks upright among all men, And sponsors every righteous cause; He is the richest; for he has The heritage true love imparts; No thief can steal, nor rust destroy The gold that gleams within his heart.

He looked down at the very minute old Comet-Legs met Wink on top of Tommy's roof. He could see Comet-Legs had a toad-skin bag over his shoulder and knew that in it was one of Eena Meena's awful dreams. Over Wink's shoulder was a poppy-leaf bag with Tommy's nice dream about the pony.

a jeer. "What are you doing here?" "I might ask you the same thing!" declared Wink.

"It's none of your business!" retorted the bad fairy, rudely. "I was here first."

"Where's Black Cap?" demanded Wink. "I was to meet him here. Did you do anything to him?"

"I just knocked him down the chimney," boasted Comet-Legs, "and that's what I'm going to do to you if you don't get out of my way."

"Well, I won't!" said Wink stoutly. And the next second they had laid down their dreams and were punching each other fearfully.

"Nancy! Nick!" called Mr. Peetrabout excitedly. "There's a job for you now on the earth. Go to Tommy Brown's house at once."

TODAY'S WORD

Today's word is PALPABLE. It's pronounced—pal-pa-bl, with accent on the first syllable.

It means—capable of being touched or felt; perceptible to the touch; plain, distinct, obvious, readily perceived.

It comes from—Latin "palpare," to feel, to stroke, the Latin word being derived from "palpus," the soft palm of the hand.

It's used like this—"Critics of Attorney General Daugherty's connection with the Morse case say that his supporters' attempt to answer by attacking their motives is a palpable evasion of the issue."

A THOUGHT

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.—Psalm 121:1

Not until a man has laid hold upon the absolute assurance that the right is right and that the God of righteousness will give him strength to the feeblest will in all the universe which tried to do right, has a man summoned to his aid the final perfect help.—Phillips Brooks.

SWEET CLOVER GIVEN TRIAL

Beulah, N. D., May 31.—Ten farmers of Mercer county have sown a total of 71 acres of sweet clover in experimental fodder growing, according to County Agent Foe. Of these Henry Benner, living near Beulah, has put in 20 acres.

In an effort to increase the acreage in sweet clover the Beulah community club in rules and regulations of its annual 20-acre corn contest has added the provision that contestants shall plant at least 10 acres of sweet clover in 1923 on his corn land.

HEALTH THE SECRET OF ATTRACTION

"The very first Tanlac testimonial I ran across that fit my case sent me to the drug store for a bottle," declared J. M. Olson, 3824 Tenth Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn., salesman for the Warner Hardware Co.

"I had the rheumatism so bad for four years that sometimes I couldn't bend my swollen knees and other joints and the pains would hang on from three days to a week. I was frightfully nervous, suffered awful headaches and dizzy spells and nothing I tried did me any good.

"As I finished up my third bottle I realized I was getting better, and now I don't have a touch of pain and my nerves are perfectly steady. I am pleased with my good health and can't praise Tanlac too highly."

REVENUE FOR HIGHWAY WORK

Much Money Made Available by Collection of Fees for Automobiles and Trucks.
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
A total of 9,245,195 passenger automobiles, trucks, and commercial vehicles, 23,114 trailers and 177,234 motor cycles were registered in the 48 states and the District of Columbia during the first six months of the present year, according to the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture. As a result of these registrations and the licensing of drivers, the states and District collected, during that period, a total gross revenue of $108,213,165. The figures show an increase of nearly $8,000,000 over the full year of 1920, when such revenues totaled $102,540,212.
"Of the 1920 registration revenues," says the bureau, "$97,871,742, or 95 per cent, was available for road work. Of the registration revenues collected during the first six months of the current year $101,703,416 is available for road work, either by the state highway departments or local road officials."

Cash Collected for Registration Fees Is Available for Improvement of Roadways.

The percentage of the gross during that period is 84—an apparent decrease of 1 per cent, but the increase seems more apparent than real, because in some states the funds do not become available until the end of the year.

Ten state legislatures have imposed a tax on gasoline during the current year. They are Arkansas, Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Montana, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Washington. Prior to this year Colorado, Kentucky, New Mexico and Oregon had levied such a tax. The state of Louisiana has written such a measure into its new constitution.

PERFECT MILE OF HIGHWAY

To Be Constructed to Stimulate Interest in Improvement of Modern Road Building.

The best mile of road in the world, to be constructed at some point on the great transcontinental highway of the future is being planned by the Lincoln Highway association, says a writer in Popular Mechanics Magazine. As an object lesson this perfect mile will stimulate interest in highway improvements, and especially in the promotion of an ocean-to-ocean roadway, embodying the highest ideals of modern American highway construction. After an immense amount of consultation and collaboration among the foremost highway engineers, it has been decided to construct this ideal mile on the Lincoln way, so located as to be of easy access from all parts of the country, and where it will carry a representative and diversified traffic. The location tentatively selected is between Dyer and Schererville in Lake county, Indiana.

TO PLANT MEMORIAL TREES

Several National Organizations Co-Operating With Local Authorities in Arrangements.

Plans are materializing for the planting of trees along the principal roads in many states, as a memorial to the American soldiers who lost their lives during the World War. Several national organizations, including the American Legion and the Boy Scouts of America, are co-operating with local civic organizations in arranging for the planting. The black walnut seems to be the variety most favored for such planting. Planting days are being arranged in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio and other states.

Expectations of a possible flourished wind-up of the month's business were unrealized. Prices closed unsettled. 2-7-8 cents net lower to 3-4 cents net advance.

JIMMY MURPHY BREAKS RECORDS IN WINNING $28,000 FIRST PRIZE IN ANNUAL 500-MILE AUTO CLASSIC

Los Angeles Driver Grabs Lead And Keeps Up Terrific Pace

AVERAGES 94 MI. PER HOUR

Harry Hartz Is Second, Eddie Hearne Third and Ralph DePalma Is Fourth

TO LOSE SOME GLORY

Indianapolis, May 31 (By the A. P.)—Some of the glory and also some of the prize money that Jimmy Murphy was generally believed to have gained in the speedway races yesterday slipped away over night. Murphy was credited with holding the lead throughout the race and winning all the prizes offered for leadership in the various laps but Speedway officials early today announced that there had been some miscalculations and that apparently Harry Hartz, another Los Angeles racer, who finished second, held the lead during part of the race and was entitled to some of the lap prizes.

There was also some question as to the authenticity of Murphy's record time, which had been announced as 5:17:30.79, which is 16 minutes better than the record established by Ralph DePalma in winning the event here in 1915. Officials said they expected to complete tabulations sometime today.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Leading from start to finish, Jimmy Murphy of Los Angeles, Cal., winner of the 1921 French grand prix, carved his name deeper in the hall of motor fame yesterday when he flashed across the wire a winner of the 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis speedway, broke a record breaking crowd of 125,000 spectators.

Murphy smashed all records for the distance, clipping more than 16 minutes off the best previous record. His time was 5:17:30.79, an average of 94.48 miles an hour, against the old record of 5:33:55.51, or 89.84 miles an hour, made by Ralph DePalma in 1915. Murphy did something which had never been accomplished before at the Indianapolis speedway and to the knowledge of racing experts never before in a race of importance. He shot into the lead at the start and never relinquished it during one instant of five hours of thrilling driving. He was the first away, was first over the line at the completion of the first lap, and was first over the wire when Eddie Rickenbacker, waved the flag for his victory.

Makes Three Stops.
The Los Angeles driver made only three stops. He made his first stop at 185 miles, pulling up at the pits for two minutes to change all tires and replenish the fuel tanks. With a lead of about ten miles, Murphy pulled into the pits for another tire change and for more fuel and oil after he had travelled 368 miles. The assistance of his pitmen was nothing short of marvelous. It took them just 28 seconds to change a right front tire and provide him with fuel enough to assure his finishing.

Hartz Is Second.
While major honors went to Murphy, Harry Hartz, also of Los Angeles, who finished second, drove a remarkable race. He jumped into second place sixty miles after the start, and held it throughout, always making a desperate fight to catch Murphy. Hartz's time was 5:30:34.50, an average of 93.54 miles an hour, which was also far in advance of the record. Eddie Hearne, a veteran racer, piloted a French car to third place in 5:22:26.06 for an average of 93.04 miles an hour, while Ralph DePalma, one of the favorites, was fourth in 5:31:04.65, an average of 90.61 miles per hour.
Ora Halbe was fifth in 5:31:13.45, an average of 90.56 miles an hour. Jerry Wunderlich was sixth in 5:37:52.84, an average of 88.79 miles an hour. L. P. Fetterman finished seventh in 5:40:55.44, an average of 87.99 miles an hour. Eighth place went to Ira Val in 5:50:07.42, an average of 85.69 miles an hour. Tom Alley was ninth in 5:57:34.13, an average of 83.89. Joe Thomas finished tenth in 6:05:01.47, for an average of 82.19.

Judges Confused.
Confusion among the judges at times resulted in the erroneous announcement shortly before the one hundredth mile that Murphy had lost the lead and Hartz had gone into first place.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

Here's Your Decision

If a coacher standing at third base shall run in direction of the home plate while a fielder is making a play on a batted ball, or a thrown ball, and draws a throw to home base, the runner entitled to third base shall be called out by the umpire because of the coacher's interference with or prevention of a legitimate play. For example, if, with none out and a runner on third, the batsman hits the ball to the shortstop and on fielding it he notices a player dashing for the plate. Believing it to be the runner on third the fielder throws wildly to the plate, the runner on third then scoring and the batsman reaching second. In such a case the umpire should declare out the runner on third who had scored and grant the batsman only first base, sending him back to that base from second.

ATHLETES OF NORTHWEST LOOK TO BIG MEET

Athletes of the Northwest, while not largely participating, have their eyes this week on the annual Big Ten track and field meet at Iowa City. The athletes of the University of Minnesota, successful in all of their dual meets of the year will carry the colors of the section. The rule of the conference that at least five men must compete if a school enters will bar individual stars from some of the schools, but Morningside College and Des Moines University, winners of second and third in the Saturdays North Central Conference meet, have entered and probably will take part. The meet, because it is held this year for the first time West of the Mississippi river, and well into the usual Missouri Valley territory will be more of a Mid-western meet than usual, almost all if not all of the teams of the Missouri Valley being in the competition. This makes the meet the representative meet of the 70,000 students attending the schools of the Big Ten proper and the 35,000 students attending the Missouri Valley Conference schools or the 100,000 students of the leading Middle Western Schools. Schools not members of the two big organizations will swell the list of students represented by the teams of their schools to 150,000.

HERE'S A CIRCUIT SWATTING QUINTET

BABE ISN'T ONLY RIVAL KEN'S GOT

Miller, Hornsby and Walker All Hard on Williams' Head, Even If Ruth's Handicap Too Much

By Billy Evans
Ken Williams, the spring sensation of the American League as home-run hitter extraordinary, had best look to his laurels.
Williams first jumped into fame by whaling out three home runs in one game. He continued his mad hitting spree for about 10 days, during which time he piled up 10 home runs. At one time those 10 home runs made his performance stand out much better than Ruth's 1921 record, when Babe amassed a total of 59. At one stage Williams had his 10 home runs a week in advance of Ruth's record of last season.

Williams at once was hailed as Ruth's successor as the home-run king of 1932. Critics and fans were united in the opinion that Ruth couldn't spot so good a hitter as Williams a six weeks' start.
Got a Good Start
The first nine home runs made by Williams were on the Browns' park at St. Louis. The club then started on its invasion of the east, first playing a series at Detroit.

In Detroit Williams raised his total of homers to 10 by hitting one into the right field bleachers, which is a real homerun swat.
In the east Williams has failed to continue his home-run orgy as the fans hoped he would.
In four games at Washington he failed to come through with any homers. However, the breaks were against him in that series. Two of his drives, which netted only two bases, failed to clear the right field wall at Washington by a scant margin. Either of them would have been home runs at St. Louis or on the Polo Grounds.

Fans' Hopes Dashed
Coming into Philadelphia Williams hit one over the right field wall at Shibe Park and later in New York he scored still another, bringing his total up to 12. In two games at Boston nothing happened, nor did he produce the action that was hoped from him at New York in the way of a battling duel with Ruth.
Williams has been in a home-run slump. Probably he has been trying too hard to live up to his Ruth reputation. In the games I umpired with the Browns in the east Ken was cutting a little too hard at the ball, with the result that he was losing some of the accuracy of his stroke.

Williams, however, is a natural hitter and will make many a home run before the close of the present season.
At the present time Bing Miller of the Philadelphia Athletics is basking in the home-run spotlight.
He has 10 circuit swats to his credit and soon hopes to overtake Williams.

Takes a Nasty Cut
Miller is a right-handed hitter who takes a nasty cut. He was speared by Mack from the Washington club in the trade that involved Peckinpaugh of New York and Dugan of the Athletics.
Other hitters who are on the heels of Williams are Hornsby of the St.

OLDFIELD WINS

in "Battle of Tires" at Indianapolis

(Special Telegraphic Dispatch from the Indianapolis Speedway May 30.)

Jimmy Murphy wins 500-Mile International sweepstakes, average speed 94 and .48 miles per hour, on Oldfield tires. Harry Hartz, second, average speed 93 and .54 miles per hour on Oldfield tires. Eight of the 10 cars to finish in the money were Oldfield equipped. Murphy's time fastest ever made in this event—breaking track record by nearly 5 miles per hour.

Third Straight Victory for Oldfield Tires

Consider this latest Oldfield achievement—the official test conducted by Mayor Kemp of Wichita, Kan., on behalf of a group of automotive dealers, when—

Four Oldfield Cord Tires on a Studebaker car covered 34,525 miles over Kansas winter roads, without a single tire change. Mayor Kemp has made affidavit to this wonderful tire mileage record along with other features of the test, including oil and gasoline economy.

Another example of Oldfield's road endurance under severe conditions was—

The French Grand Prix, Europe's greatest race classic, where Oldfield Tires carried the winner safely and surely over 325 miles of rough, rocky country roads—the first time in history that American tires have won this event.

Races are won by skilled drivers at terrific speed. You will never put your tires to such a test. But the fact that virtually all racing drivers will trust no other tires but Oldfields is convincing evidence of that tire's inbuilt stamina and endurance.

You can enjoy this same safety and service by having your nearest dealer equip your car with Oldfield Cords at a cost no higher than you pay for other standard makes.

Sixty-one Branch Houses and dealers everywhere throughout the United States distribute Oldfield Tires.

1922 Records Made on Oldfield Tires.

Earl Cooper, San Francisco, April 17th, broke world's record for stock chassis—average 93.24 miles per hour.

Jimmy Murphy, April 27th, Fresno, Cal., broke world's track record for 150 miles at 102.8 miles per hour.

Jimmy Murphy, May 7th, Santa Rosa, Cal., new 50-mile world record—average 116 miles per hour.

1922 Records Made on Oldfield Tires

Tommy Milton, Los Angeles, March 5th, 1922. New track record of 110.8 miles per hour in 250 mile race.

Tommy Milton, Los Angeles, April 2nd, broke world's record for fifty miles—average 115.2 miles per hour.
